HOMORONS, PRIDAY, PERSUARY 12, 1892. THERE WAS & good deal of excitement among the foreign population in Shanghai, to judge by the papers last come to hand over the one of the Sweds Sjarbon, who was sentenced the other day at the Mixed Court to be exposed in the cangue. Sigrborg. it appears, is an incorrigible "beachcomberwho was regudiated by the Swedish Consul, and it had been deemed necessary to take savere measures with him. Exposing a to the hidden flaws and cremises of the teeth white men in the caugue, however (which is a Chinese form of punishment), is a specase of degradation which naturally called is from from acid or gritty ingredients, forth loud protests from the foreign compared by him a permagent brown or black. In munity of the model settlement. The man Ask dealers in performers he howlands was sentenced on Friday last and the articles sentence was to have been carried into effect on Monday, but at the Mixed Court was closed on Monday and Tuesday, The celebration of the inniversary of the birthday of the young Empress of Chine, the canguing did not take place on either of these days. In the meantime the subject-was being botly discussed by the local press. The Mercury of Monday, the 8th inst., says that had the court been sitting there could be no doubt, in spite of all the remenstrancesmade, that the man Sigrborg would have been dumped on his knees by the lieters like the lowest coolie before the Mixed Court Magistrate and have had the canque put round his neck to the eternal ignominy of every Foreigner in China, for up to the present we believe Mr Carl Book has not seen fit to claim him as a subject or get the humiliating sentence modified according to European ideas. The same paper goes on to say: Bjarborg will without a doubt he cangued on Wadnesday morning if Mr. Carl Book is not rouged by a series of shame between this and then to move on his behalf. We un-London House, and bought direct from the derstand the Swedish community here are righteously indignant over the pitiable and degraded attitude assumed by the gentleman who is foisted upon them as a Consular representative. Mr Book was waited on this morning by several gentlemen of that nationality, who protested very strongly against his action, or want of action in the matter, and even offered to bear their red in getting the wretched Sjarborg out of Shanghal. Mr Bock claimed for Sjarborg citizenship of the United States a claim; however, which Consul-General Leonard will on so secount recognise. The only thing Mr Bock seems willing to do is to get Sjarborg away in a Swedish ship, but this will not prevent the sentence being carried out. Mr Book ought to be ashamed of him. saif. The N.-C. Daily News takes a calmer view of the affair, and even tries to and some little excuse for this unusual and degrading sentence on a European, whose worst fault no doubt is drunkenness. The sentence was not an impulsive one, the Daly News asserts, and adds that it was suggested to the Mixed Court Magistrate by Mr. Brown, the British Assessor, and Jas a mast of Mr Brown's character must have had weighty reasons for his action, it is not proper to 2 doz dismiss the sentence indignantly as the aberration of an otherwise excellent naseasor! We can well believe that Bhanghai, like the other sea ports in the Far Bast, is afflicted with a upmber of beachcombers possessed of a talent for liquor. and a constitutional aversion to work ; who are continually falling into the hands of the police at 'drauka'; to whom punishment by imprisonment seems to make no difference, and who if sent out of the place drift back again with the earliest opportunity; and it is not difficult to conceive a magistrate 1.75 who has been plactical with persons of this description coming to the conclusion heatily that, if nothing clas would not as a deterrent, the cangue might. But, as the Daily News admits, this alone would not justify the execution of the sentence in question. The confirmed beach omber's sense of selfesteem is probably so small that the cangue would not affect it, but there can be no doubt that the fast of a white man
